

UC San Diego Residential Life Community Standards (Updated April 6, 2022)

Introduction

At UC San Diego, we believe you will find living on campus is an integral part of your education. As a result of your community living experience, we hope that you will develop a concern and respect for others; make responsible choices and decisions; share your academic, social, and cultural experience with other students; and learn to live peacefully in close quarters with a diverse group of people.

It is important to realize that students living in a group environment affect each other's lives in many ways. We strongly believe that one's actions demonstrate one's commitment to respecting differences. In addition, we will not accept ignorance, humor, anger, alcohol or substance abuse as an excuse, reason, or rationale for behavior. Certain shared responsibilities such as cooperation, inclusion, and respect are integral to any successful group living situation. It also means accepting personal responsibility for how your everyday actions affect others living with you as roommates and neighbors. Establishing a positive and supportive residential environment means everyone in the community must make occasional adjustments in personal habits, attitudes, and beliefs. Successful on-campus living, whether in the residence halls or apartments, means exercising your rights while recognizing your responsibilities in respecting the equally legitimate rights of the other members in your community.

Community Standards

In accordance with the University of California San Diego Housing Contract, every UC San Diego student who lives in or enters our residential communities must abide by the Community Standards and regulations of UC San Diego, including, but not limited to, the UC San Diego Student Conduct Procedures, the UC San Diego RESNET Acceptable Use Policy, all applicable local, state, and federal laws, and the Housing Community Standards contained herein.

This document describes residential-area specific policies and is incorporated into the Standards of Conduct within the UC San Diego Student Conduct Procedures. Violations of the Community Standards described below may become the basis for a referral to the student conduct process.

These Community Standards are in place to establish a safe and secure living environment and to support your success as a UC San Diego student. Any student who anticipates or observes a potential violation of these Community Standards is expected to immediately remove themselves from the environment in which the violation may occur. One's presence during any violation of these Community Standards ultimately condones, supports, and/or encourages the behavior or potential violation of these Community Standards.

Additionally, breach of any term/provision of the Housing Contract may result in contract cancellation prior to move-in, termination of the contract after move-in, or exclusion from future UC San Diego student housing application processes.

Additionally, when there is conflict, residents are expected to review and revise their agreement, consulting with their Resident Assistant/House Advisor as needed. A Resident Agreement is to be completed each time there is a change in contracted occupants of a room/suite/apartment and will be due within four
